A student is not guaranteed to be selected as a prefect. If multiple students are applying to be a prefect for the same week and location and have exhibited the qualities we seek in a prefect, we will use a lottery system to select a name. When possible, we may have more than one prefect at a location depending on the size of the program. At times, this may mean that prefects may not receive final notice of the position until closer to the start of camp due to registration numbers. In these cases, a later training date would be planned.

All applications must be received by May 7.

All students applying for one of these positions must be available for training on Sunday, June 6th.

The application process and a note to parents

When students apply for any of the positions noted in this paperwork, we speak with the “professors” who have worked with that student to glean their insights regarding readiness and suitability. We then consider the student’s application, availability, and the manner in which each has communicated their interest. We heavily consider how much a student is involved in the application and communication process and how much a parent is involved. Since students will bear the responsibilities involved with a position, parental involvement during the application process sends a signal that the student may not yet be ready to take on a role independently.
